SHARING ADVENTURES IN GENEALOGY: INTERVIEWS WITH MEMBERS OF THE GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY OF WASHTENAW COUNTY
(Part Two)

By Carol Uhal

In this issue of Capers, we are asking genealogy-related questions of three members of the GSWC. Selected to be interviewed for this issue were David Curtis, Dolores Kingston, and Ruth Broesamle.

Question: What is the most surprising thing you've discovered in researching your genealogy? How did that discovery affect the way you view genealogy and did it have an effect on your attitude toward research?

Dave Curtis: In 1982 my grandmother gave me some Civil War medals that had been given to my great-great-grandfather James Masters who fought with the 17th Michigan Infantry. After spending time researching the 17th Michigan Infantry, I began to wonder about my family lineage. My aunt Doris Curtis gave me a 10-page genealogy showing the descendants of Samuel Lewis' ten children. The genealogy was done about 1894 and only showed names of the descendants—no dates or locations were given. The genealogy did show Samuel Lewis had a daughter Almira who married Chester Curtis. Almira and Chester had children including Edwin Curtis who married Aurrila Galpin. Edwin and Aurrila had a son Adelbert Curtis who I knew was my great-grandfather.

In the book Galpin Family in America [by William Freeman Galpin], I read that Adelbert said his father Edwin was born in 1829 in Allegany County, New York. So I made two trips to courthouses and genealogical and historical societies in the area of Allegany County with little success. One has to remember, I was doing this at a time when there was no Internet, and very few census indexes were available. It was a matter of going through roll by roll of microfilm of various counties. This was also a problem because few libraries were available that had census records on microfilm. For me this usually meant a trip to the Burton Collection in Detroit. Without knowing where they came from, or where they went, this was a time consuming process.

My big surprise happened one night when my sister came knocking on the door. Her excited response was, "I found your ancestors. They are buried in Cherry Hill Cemetery, a mile from your house." Low and behold, there was my third great-grandmother Almira (Lewis) Curtis Cody. She was buried in this cemetery along with several of her nine siblings. I learned that my ancestors had come to Canton in 1834.

The big effect this had on me is I became interested in the history of Canton, Michigan and have worked feverishly in preserving Canton's history.

Dolores Kingston: The most surprising thing I've discovered in researching my genealogy was finding a DNA relative who had my third great-grandparents' family Bible. Because of the information recorded in that Bible, I was able to connect my third great-grandfather Michael Henn to a birth record in Katzweiler, Bavaria. From there, I got some help from a German gentlemen who still carries the Henn surname. He gave me information that helped me track down one of the authors of a book that traced back the inhabitants of Katzweiler, including the Henns, for 300 years. Unfortunately, the book is out of print. But the author sent me a large PDF file with the information in his book for all of the Henns in Katzweiler. From that information, I was able to trace back my Henn lineage to my ninth great-grandparents! This same author helped me obtain a book (in German) on the history of Katzweiler. In the book is a photo of the mill that the Henn family owned, which still exists. This is the furthest back I have been able go in any records of my lines! Am I glad the Germans kept good records!

Ruth Broesamle: One of the most surprising things I've learned in doing genealogy is that you can't believe everything you hear from family members. I grew up hearing my father's stories, especially about his grandmother Helena (Dietz) Lutz. As a child, I accepted these stories as the gospel truth. My father told me that Helena came from Germany with her sister. They were separated in New York and the sister was never heard from again.

When I found the ship's record, it listed Helena with two other girls about her age. The three girls were from the same village, but each had a different last name. The record did not yield a sister for Helena. I did know that Helena had two brothers who ran a drugstore on State Street in Chicago. A friend researched them for me and, indeed, found that John and Alvin Dietz were druggists in Chicago, but they were born in Wisconsin and listed in the census with their father, Adam Dietz.

Later, a second cousin loaned me a family history written by her grandfather while his parents were still living. He stated that Helena had a brother who had lived in Wisconsin. But whether Helena had a sister and whether her sister came to the United States still remains a mystery.

My father also had the place of Helena's marriage wrong. He always told us that Helena was married in Tecumseh, but much later I learned that she was married somewhere in Washtenaw County in 1859. Marriage records back then weren't all that complete, so I don't know the specific name of the town or village. Lesson learned: always check what you are told and find one or more sources to verify it. Actually, when I started the research into Helena I was looking for vital records, but that's another story.

Question: In the time you've been doing genealogy, what is the worst brick wall you've encountered? Have you yet been able to work through it or perhaps around it? If so, how did you get "unstuck?"

Dave Curtis: One of my biggest brick walls was finding the parents of my third great-grandmother Rachel (Buck) McCormick. Rachel died at Salem Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan. Rachel's death certificate gave her father as Asel Buck. I spent years trying to find the correct Asel/Asahel Buck. Research involved several trips to Salt Lake City, New York, and Pennsylvania. To complicate matters, there was an Asahel Buck who died in Washtenaw County in the 1840s and appeared to be the father of Rachel.

About 1989 I placed a query in RootsWeb asking for information about Asel/Ashael Buck. For some strange reason I included in my query, "I have a lot of information about Bucks in Washtenaw County, MI."

In 2012 a lady contacted me and asked for my information about Bucks in Washtenaw County. I sent it to her and later found out she was a professional researcher. It was upsetting that she did not let me know beforehand that she was a professional working for another person. However, two weeks later, she sent me a probate record for Justus Buck. My Rachel McCormick was listed in the record. The record identified her as his daughter. I have wondered if the "Asel/Ashael" name was a nick name or, perhaps, the middle name of her father and the informant for the death certificate did not know that his real name was Justus. The same probate record led me to Michael Buck, father of Justus. Michael was a Revolutionary War soldier who was with General Washington at Valley Forge. The Sons of the American Revolution accepted my proofs.

Dolores Kingston: My worst brick wall is trying to find any information on my mother's side of the family. I have not yet found a way around this brick wall. My mother and her family never talked about Europe. They were European Jews and while my mother's immediate family escaped Hitler, some of her relatives did not. The only European record I have been able to find for my mother's family is my grandmother's marriage record in Vienna, Austria. On that record it gives the names of both their parents, my great-grandparents. I was able to find a few sentences describing my maternal great-grandfather and his sons in a Jewish Memory Book for Jaslo. Only the great-grandfather's name was given in the book. At the time of my grandmother's birth in Jaslo, it was part of the Austro-Hungarian Empire so she always considered herself Austrian. But before Austria took control of Galicia, Jaslo was part of Poland and after World War I it became part of Poland again.

I have found a birth record for my grandmother on the Jewishgen.com website. Spelling doesn't count! The family spells the surname Mintz, the German spelling was Münz and the Polish record was spelled Muenz. I suspect that most documents that might contain information on my mother's side of the family are either in Polish, Ukrainian, Russian or Hebrew. My maternal grandfather's surname was Rubinstein which is an extremely common European surname. Unfortunately, he died when my mother was nine years old, so I know nothing about his side of the family other than what I found on his marriage record.

Ruth Broesamle: To date, my worst brick wall—or at least the most frustrating—has been Green Lent, my second great-grandfather. I first found him in the Cleveland family genealogy as the husband of Ann Eliza Cleveland Lent Ward. Interestingly, Ann's story is fairly complete but for years, the only mention of Green that I could find was in his daughter's death certificate. I've recently come across two possible leads for more information about him but I've not yet been able to pursue them.

Question: Tell us about your most gloriously successful moment in researching your genealogy.

Dave Curtis: From the chart my aunt Doris Curtis gave me, I had my Curtis ancestry traced back to Chester Curtis. In 1996 I was president of the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research (DSGR). For one of our meetings we had well known speaker Betty Lou Morris come in and give a talk. After introducing her, I sat down to listen to her talk. This voice in my head kept repeating, "Go up to the library." I did not want to embarrass Mrs. Morris by getting up and leaving, so I sat there. This voice in my head kept repeating, "Go up to the library." Finally, I could not stand it any longer. So I got up and walked out. I was standing in front of the Connecticut section. As I stood there I said to myself, "Okay, dummy, now what are you going to do?" I pulled a book off the shelf and found a biographical sketch of a Rufus Curtis, which gave me the father of my Chester Curtis as Chester Curtis (Sr.). I should note that when I found his wife's gravestone in Brooklyn, Connecticut it said, "Lodcia Ann wife of Thomas Curtis." So I have to watch for both Chester and Thomas as I do not positively know his given name.

Dolores Kingston: Second only to discovering my Henn ancestors, was finding information that seems to be for my fourth great-grandfather Peter G. Lewis. I have had to connect information from many documents to pin down this elusive ancestor. It didn't help that there were several different men named Peter Lewis all living in the same area at the same time! Peter didn't help me any because every document gives a different estimate for his year of birth. Depending on the document, he was born as early as 1780 and as late as 1805! Even his obituary gives a different age at the time of death than the official death record in New Jersey!

But here is what I think I know. Peter appears to have been born in Morris County, New Jersey, probably around 1795 since he was likely at least 16 years old when he enlisted in the War of 1812. One of his obituaries said he was a life-long resident of Morris Co., and one of the documents for his daughter Adaline said she was born in Morris Co., N.J. He married at least twice. His first wife was Phoebe Kenna or Kenny. They appear to have had several children. Two daughters, my ancestor Elizabeth Lewis and her sister Adaline Lewis, give their parents' names as Peter G. Lewis and Phoebe Kenna/Kenny. In a later census where Peter G. is living with his second wife, there is a son, Peter Lewis, listed as living with them. Peter Jr.'s age suggests that his mother was either Phoebe, or another unknown female.

According to Elizabeth (Lewis) Henn's church marriage record, her father was Peter G. Lewis, a grocer in Paterson, New Jersey. So I thought, great! I will find Peter in the 1850 census in Paterson! No such luck. There was a Phoebe Lewis living alone in Paterson in 1850, but no sign of Peter. So I looked at the 1840 census and there again was Phoebe Lewis listed as the head of household and living with her, a bunch of younger people. Since the 1840 census only lists the name of the head of household, it seems clear Peter was no longer living with his first wife and family, assuming that the Phoebe Lewis in Paterson is my ancestor. If she is, then daughter Elizabeth had lost track of her father for some time! It seems likely Peter divorced or abandoned his first wife some time prior to 1840.

Then I discovered on Find A Grave memorials for a Peter G. Lewis and a Peter Lewis Jr. both buried in the same cemetery in New Jersey. Both men seem to match census records and obituary information I have found. It appears that Peter G. Lewis married a widow, Catherine Woodhull (maiden name Welch) with seven children from her first marriage. They were married in New York City and in 1850 living in the 22nd Ward of the city. Peter and Catherine had a son who appears to have died in infancy. The couple appears together in the 1860 and 1870 censuses. But in 1877, when Peter G. died, his place of death was Jersey City, New Jersey. Peter Lewis Jr. also died in Jersey City. So it seems likely that the father was living with his son at his time of death. Catherine died in 1890 in Manhattan. So did Peter leave her too? Or was he just visiting his son when he died?

One of my unanswered questions is: Did Peter G. do the right thing and divorce his first wife before marrying the second? Unfortunately, I have not been able to find a divorce record for the first marriage. But maybe there is a clue in looking at one of Peter's grandsons by his daughter Adaline. You see, Adaline married twice, first to Charles Boylan which was a short-lived marriage, and then to John Blacker. From her first marriage, she had a son named Charles Boylan Jr. Charles Jr. married two different women and had them in two separate houses and ran between them! He married his first wife under the name Charles Boylan, but married the second wife under the name Charles Lewis (his mother's maiden name). But his first wife got suspicious. She tracked down wife number two and showed the woman the evidence that Charles Boylan and Charles Lewis were the same person! The mother of wife number two then had Charles arrested for bigamy. Like father, like grandson?

Ruth Broesamle: Let me give some backstory first. When Ethel Brown died, I got her research on the Tucker family. Ethel's mother and my grandmother were sisters whose surname was Tucker. Their mother, Phoebe, was a Canfield and for several years I'd been attending the Canfield family reunion. I knew there was a question about Phoebe's grandfather's name. Was it Golden or Lansing? Or perhaps James or William? Was William Canfield of Lyndon Township his son, the William listed as a brother of David, my second great-grandfather? More questions than answers.

I'm not computer savvy, so one day a friend offered to help me look at family trees. I picked one that showed David, his wife, and daughters, which I knew, and David's parents. His father's name was Gould Lansing Canfield. A breakthrough that had eluded at least two generations. I consider it not as my success, but as a tribute to Ethel and her correspondents.

David Curtis began doing genealogy in 1982 and joined the Genealogical Society of Washtenaw County (GSWC). He served 10 years on the board of directors of the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research and has served as a director-at-large for GSWC. He has also served as recording secretary for the Society of Mayflower Descendants in Michigan. In addition, David has served on various board positions and committees for the Canton Historical Society. He has a serious interest in collecting and preserving Canton's history. David's family came to Canton in 1838. He can be reached at: cwgenes17@comcast.net.

Dolores Kingston lives in Saline, Michigan and has been researching various lines of her family for about eight years. She is a member of the Genealogical Society of Washtenaw County and has served on its board of directors as recording secretary. Dolores can be reached at: kingston@provide.net.

Ruth Broesamle was born in the old Saline Hospital and is a life-long area resident. The impetus for her interest in genealogy came from her younger brother, William J. Lutz. While serving in the military, he was stationed in Germany. William took a copy of a family picture with him of Michael Lutz, an ancestor who served in the Napoleonic Wars and was from the area where William was serving. As William gathered information about Michael and his family, he shared it with Ruth. This immediately piqued Ruth's interest in family history and that interest soon spread to her mother's side of the family. Hooked on genealogy! Ruth's son William has continued his interest in genealogy and family tradition. He is the fifth generation to live on the farm his great-grandfather purchased in 1882.

Carol Uhal was born in Port Huron, Michigan and is now a resident of Ypsilanti Township. She has been a member of the Society since 2010. Carol has been researching lines of her family since 2007 with varying degrees of success. She is now researching primarily in Saint Clair and Sanilac counties and in the area of London, Ontario. Carol is so pleased that her first cousin Douglas Archer has developed an interest in genealogy and has solved the mystery of what happened to their great-great- grandfather. She can be reached at: caroluhal@yahoo.com.

THE NEW STATE ENCAMPMENT GROUNDS, WHITMORE LAKE, MICHIGAN, 1891

The grounds selected for the encampment of the state troops this year are situated 15 miles southeast of Howell and 10 miles north of Ann Arbor. Whitmore lake is a handsome sheet of blue water and abounds in speckled bass and other kinds of fish. The town of Whitmore Lake, which is connected with the outside world by the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan and the Michigan Air Line railroads, skirts the western shore of the lake, and consists of two hotels, a half dozen stores, and a number of summer cottages and farm residences. The lake is surrounded by a shady road, and several steam and sailing craft ply its waters, while row boats innumerable can be secured for a stipulated consideration from half a dozen boat houses. Fronting this pleasant sheet of water is the farm house of Frank Barker, upon whose land the state troops will pitch their tents during the coming state encampment. Back through a pleasant lane, across the railroad half a mile, are the camp grounds. Here are 90 acres of level meadow land, bounded on the west by an inviting forest. Dead lake lies to the south and west in convenient proximity to the encampment grounds. Upon the east are "pleasant fields and pastures green," and on the north the highway. The Spring Lake Ice Company has a mammoth ice house full to the rafters with the congealed product of Whitmore lake. It is conveniently located within 100 rods of the camp grounds. Water for culinary purposes will be piped from an adjacent flowing spring, and Dead lake furnishes a splendid beach for bathing.

REV. FRIEDRICH SCHMID'S BAPTISMAL RECORDS, 1847–1875, WASHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN
(Part Twenty-Three)

Translated & transcribed by Rob and Cyndy Steward, 2020

The original records of Rev. Friedrich Schmid are currently housed and may be accessed in The Michigan Historical Collections, Bentley Historical Library, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Please note that the handwriting of Rev. Schmid is not easily deciphered, in part due to his penmanship. The records contain entries written in old German script and some using English script. In addition, the pages in his records are not numbered. It is our understanding that he kept notes as he traveled and then entered them into his record books when he returned home. This may explain that while the records are fairly complete there are some gaps or omissions.

We have maintained the spelling Rev. Schmid used in the case of names. Items enclosed in parentheses are usually comments or notes of the translators or indicate alternate spellings. The term "geb." in relation to a female name, refers to "born as" or maiden name. A "+" at the beginning or end of a line indicates the person is deceased. "Unehl." indicates that the parents were not married to each other at the time of the baptism.

Rev. Schmid's Baptismal Records are in column format as follows:

ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH CONFIRMATIONS 1905–1906, ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN

Abstracted by Judi Bornemeier

The following is an abstract of the confirmations for the years 1905–1906 recorded in a Zion Lutheran Church, Ann Arbor, Michigan record book labeled 1894–1924 Baptisms, Confirmation, Marriages, Funerals. The book is part of the Zion Lutheran Church Ann Arbor, Michigan Records, 1833–1981 collection at the Bentley Historical Library, University of Michigan and these confirmation records were abstracted and printed with permission from Bentley Historical Library as well as Zion Lutheran Church. Column headings in the book are in German but have been translated to English for this abstract, other entries in German remain as written. The abstract maintains the recorded spelling of names and places, punctuation use was inconsistent. A "+" by the name was used by the church to indicate the person is deceased.
